

An old man and woman were married for years and years even though they hated each other. When they had an argument, screams and yelling could be heard deep into the night. Repeatedly a threat was heard from the old man against his wife. "When I die I will dig my way up and out of the grave to come back and haunt you for the rest of your life!"

It was believed that the old man practiced black magic and was responsible for missing cats and dogs and strange sounds at all hours. He was feared and he enjoyed the respect it garnished.

The old man died abruptly under strange circumstances and the funeral had a closed casket. After the burial, the wife went straight to the local bar and began to party as if there was no tomorrow.

The gaiety of her actions were becoming extreme when her neighbors approached in a group to ask these questions: "Are you not afraid? Concerned? Worried? that this man who practiced black magic and stated when he died he would dig his way up and out of the grave to come back and haunt you for the rest of your life?"

The wife put down her drink and said, "Let the old guy dig. I had him buried upside down."

Walking up to a department store's fabric counter, a pretty girl asked, "I want to buy this material for a new dress. How much does it cost?" "Only one kiss per yard," replied the smirking male clerk. "That's fine," replied the girl. "I'll take ten yards." With expectation and anticipation written all over his face, the clerk hurriedly measured out and wrapped the cloth, then held it out teasingly. The girl snapped up the package and pointed to a little old man standing beside her. "Grandpa will pay the bill," she smiled.

Sitting on the side of the highway waiting to catch speeding drivers, a State Police Officer sees a car pattering along at 22 MPH. He thinks to himself, "This driver is just as dangerous as a speeder!" So he turns on his lights and pulls the driver over. Approaching the car, he notices that there are five old ladies-two in the front seat and three in the back-wide eyed and white as ghosts.

The driver, obviously confused, says to him, "Officer, I don't understand, I was doing exactly the speed limit! What seems to be the problem?" "Ma'am," the officer replies, "you weren't speeding, but you should know that driving slower than the speed limit can also be a danger to other drivers." "Slower than the speed limit? No sir, I was doing the speed limit exactly ... Twenty-two miles an hour!" the old woman says a bit proudly.

The State Police officer, trying to contain a chuckle explains to her that "22" was the Route Number, not the speed limit. A bit embarrassed, the woman grinned and thanked the officer for pointing out her error. "But before I let you go, Ma'am, I have to ask... Is everyone in this car OK? These women seem awfully shaken and they haven't muttered a single peep this whole time," the officer asks with concern. "Oh, they'll be all right in a minute officer. We just got off Route 119!" ggd ☺

The New Health Care Law And You

Source: AARP Bulletin Today (May 11, 2010)

10 Things You Need to Know About the New Law

- 1 Helps 32 million more Americans get insurance.
- 2 Makes preexisting medical conditions a thing of the past. Insurers can't use them to deny coverage for children from this year on, or adults starting in 2014.
- 3 Guarantees basic benefits for everyone in Medicare, makes preventive services free for most, and gradually closes the "doughnut hole" in the Part D drug program.
- 4 Sets up a temporary program in July to help people with preexisting health conditions—who have been uninsured at least six months—obtain coverage.
- 5 Provides new benefits for most people who already have insurance, such as coverage for adult children until age 26.
- 6 Leaves medical decisions in the hands of your doctor and you.
- 7 Requires most people to have coverage by 2014 but offers subsidies for those with moderate or low income and makes more people eligible for Medicaid.
- 8 Creates state-run insurance exchanges offering a menu of private insurance plans for people who are uninsured, self-employed or between jobs (in 2014).
- 9 Offers immediate tax credits to help small businesses buy insurance for employees.
- 10 Keeps Medicare financially sound for nearly 10 more years and reduces the U.S. deficit by an estimated $143 billion.

This month I'll focus on Medicare and how the new Health Care Law affects Medicare recipients:

The new law guarantees that your existing basic benefits will not change, regardless of whether you receive them through traditional Medicare or a private Medicare Advantage plan.

- New Part B benefits: Starting in 2011, if you're in traditional Medicare, you can get an annual physical and many preventive services free. If you're in Medicare Advantage, check with your plan to see if these will be free.
- Part D doughnut hole: If you enter the coverage gap this year, you receive $250 toward your drug costs. Starting in 2011, you get a 50 percent discount on all brand-name and biologic drugs you buy in the gap. Over 10 years, you'll gradually receive more discounts for generic drugs as well as brands until the gap closes in 2020.

- Part B premiums: In the next 10 years more people will likely be required to pay higher-income premiums because the current income levels on which they're based will be frozen until 2020. Those levels start at $85,000 for a single person or $170,000 for married couples filing joint tax returns.
 - Part D premiums: For the first time, people with higher incomes (the same as those for Part B above) will pay higher premiums for drug coverage, starting next year.
 - Medicare Advantage health plans: Medicare currently pays more for people enrolled in many of these private plans than for those in traditional Medicare. The overpayments will gradually be phased out and replaced with a payment system that rewards plans that meet certain quality standards for care and customer service. Also, starting in 2014, plans must spend at least 85 percent of the money they take in from premiums on medical care; and they will no longer be able to charge higher co-payments than traditional Medicare for certain services. These changes may prompt some plans to raise premiums, drop extra benefits such as routine vision care and health club memberships, or leave Medicare.
 - Medigap supplemental insurance: No change. You will not be required to buy a private medigap policy. If you buy medigap insurance outside of the limited time frames when full federal protections apply, insurers can still deny coverage or require you to pay higher rates because of your health and preexisting conditions.
 - Coverage for people under 65 with disabilities: The two-year waiting period between qualifying for Social Security disability and becoming eligible for Medicare remains unchanged. Early proposals to do away with this delay did not make it into the final law.
- Medicare solvency: Cost savings from the new law should keep Medicare financially stable almost a decade longer than if no law had been passed, according to official estimates. ggd ☺

DANGER: The human being units not responding to this recall action will have to be scrapped in the furnace. The SIN defect will not be permitted to enter Heaven so as to prevent contamination of that facility.
